ZONING ORDINANCE
SEC. 1403. VARIANCE REVIEW STANDARDS.

(a) In rendering its decisions, the License and Variance Board or Mayor and City Council shall consider the following factors:

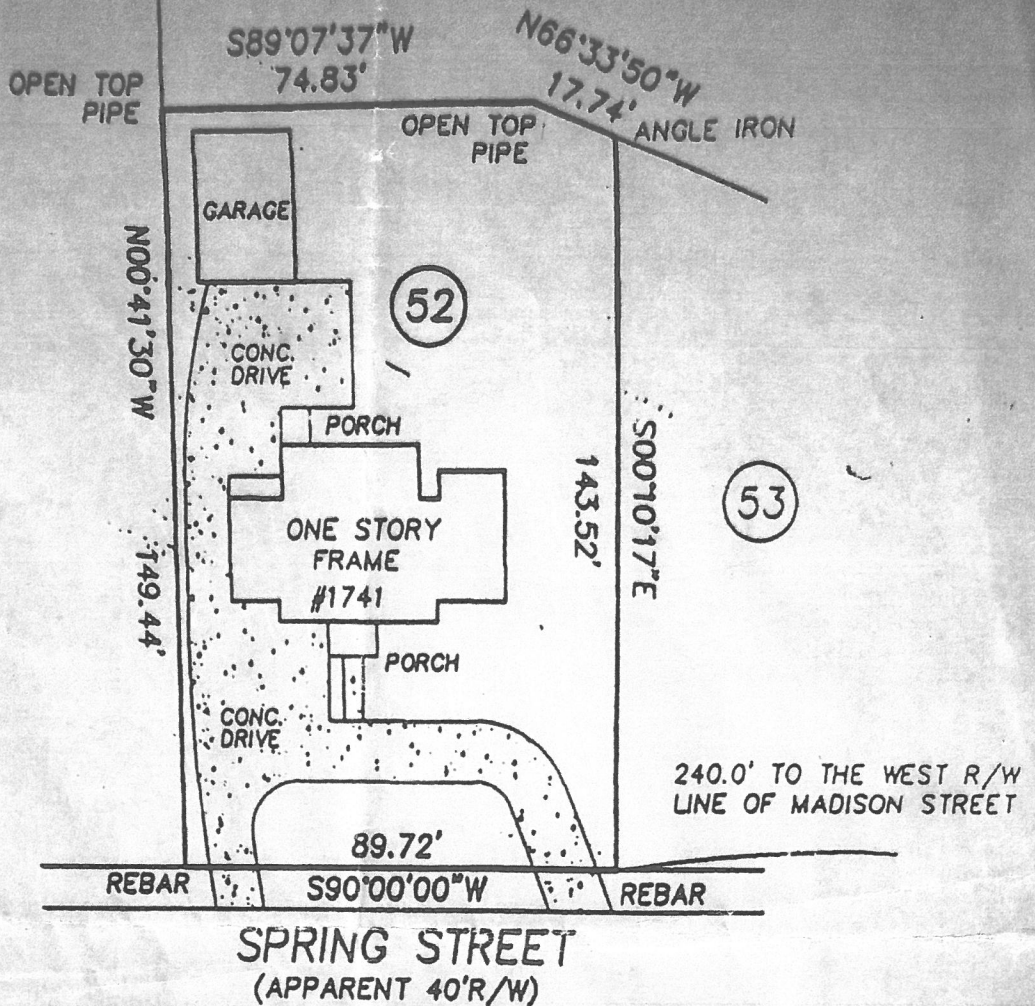

- (1) Whether there are extraordinary and exceptional conditions applying to the property in question, or to the intended use of the property, that do not apply generally to other properties in the same district.
- (2) Whether any alleged hardship which is self-created by any person having an interest in the property or is not the result of mere disregard for or ignorance of the provisions from which relief is sought.
- (3) Whether strict application of the relevant provisions of the zoning code would deprive the applicant of reasonable use of the property for which the variance is sought.
- (4) Whether the variance proposed is the minimum variance which makes possible the reasonable use of the property.

COMPREHENSIVE NARRATIVE VARIANCE APPLICATION

1741 SPRING STREET SMYRNA, GA 30080

Exceptional Conditions:

The property in question is an existing 0.31 tract with an existing main building and an existing garage, both of which are to remain. The property is currently zoned GC and is used as a commercial space.

Hardship Origin:

The hardships associated with the proposed property are existing and were not created by any person(s) having an interest in the property and are not the result of disregard or ignorance of provisions from which relief is sought.

Strict Application Hardships:

Due to the small tract size, and the location of the existing buildings, strict application of the setbacks, buffers, and acreage requirements would render the property useless for the proposed use.

Minimum requested variance:

The variances requested reflect the continued commercial use of the property using the existing structures, while incorporating setbacks and buffers which reflect the size constraints of the site, and therefore the minimum reasonable use of the property.
